

Sean Anderson

I believe in God, the father almighty. I believe that God came down to Earth in a human form. He did this so he could lead us on a path to righteousness. God thought that if he came down in a human form he would not scare us. There is a story told by Paul Harvey about a man who had to have everything proven to him before he would believe it. This man lived on a farm. One night in the winter, he woke up to the sound of pounding. He got up and went to find out what the sound was. When he arrived at the source, he saw that some sparrows were attempting to get inside his house for they were attracted to the heat from inside. So the man went outside in the snow over the barn to open it so the birds could stay inside. He moved some hay around and then tried to move the birds inside. They did not move because they were afraid of the man. The man tried to brow the birds into the barn with a pathway of crackers. Attempt after attempt ended up with failure. The man thought, if only I could become a sparrow for a few seconds, then I could lead the birds to safety and comfort. Then I thought dawned upon him. He realized why Jesus was born. He realized that Jesus had come down from God and was born so that he could lead people on a path to safety. I believe that Jesus was born for this purpose. I believe that if we listen to Jesus' words, then we will be saved from evil and will live a better life.

I took a test to see what my spiritual talents are. When I was finished, I added up my score and was surprised to see that my greatest talent was faith along with leadership and encouraging. Above all, faith had the highest score. My faith represents my trust in God and how I trust that he will always be there all the time. I believe that God will always be there in all situations. I believe that he gives us strength in the toughest of situations. I believe that he will always be there to help you in impossible situations.

Leadership is also one of my strongest talents. My leadership helps me to lead people on the right track towards God. In a way, my leadership skill works sort of like a street sign. The street sign leads people in the right direction towards their destination. I believe that I have this talent because God wants me to lead people on a path towards him.

Encouragement is my third strongest talent. My ability to encourage people helps them to stay on a path towards God. Encouraging also helps me to motivate people to strive for a better things such as a better relationship with God.

All in all, my spiritual talents all work together. My faith establishes a good relationship with God, my leadership skills set people on the correct path, and my encouraging skill helps keep people on the correct path and prevent them from moving off the path. I believe that God gave me these talents for a reason and I intend to use them.